The legacy of Willcox Savage is more than a legacy of great legal work.

It is a legacy of attorneys like Tom Willcox, Toy Savage, and countless others who believed in the model of being real counselors to their clients.

...Working to improve the profession of law and the laws that govern us

...Committing themselves to engage in and improve the communities in which we live

It is a legacy that guides us today and will continue to serve as the cornerstone of our firm in 2020 and beyond.

WELCOME NEW PARTNER

INGRID WATSON joined the firm as a partner in our Employee Benefits practice, where she brings over 20 years of experience providing practical legal counsel to clients on matters such as qualified retirement plans, health and welfare benefits plans, and nonqualified deferred compensation plans. Ingrid regularly represents clients in negotiations with the Internal Revenue Service and the Department of Labor regarding benefit plan compliance issues under the Internal Revenue Code and ERISA.

She was previously a partner with Roth Jackson and Williams Mullen.

Ingrid received her J.D. from Washington & Lee University School of Law and an A.B. from Duke University.
